

Fridays at Noon: The Nordic Body—Helena Franzén, My Lindblad, Iréne Hultman and SU-EN

OVERVIEW

Award-winning Swedish choreographers Helena Franzén, Iréne Hultman, My Lindblad and SU-EN Butoh Company are representative of the many facets of dance and movement in Sweden, from post-modernism to Butoh.

Each presents her unique look at the influences of the north and contemporary culture on her work. In advance of the noon performance and talk, Kathryn Roszak hosts an informal screening of Secrets on the Way, a dance-noir film that combines dance, poetry and theater inspired by the Nobel Prize-winning Swedish poet, Tomas Tranströmer (April 15, 1931-March 26, 2015). Kathryn Roszak's Danse Lumière offers this screening of Secrets on the Way as a tribute to the recently deceased poet in the Dance Lobby outside 92Y's Buttenweiser Hall starting at 11 am.

Fridays at Noon tickets are $10 and should be purchased in advance online or at the 92Y Box Office in the lobby.

Live streams of each Fridays At Noon performance are available at www.tischdanceandnewmedia.com/live. The live streams of the Fridays At Noon performances are part of an educational collaboration between 92Y Harkness Dance Center and NYU's Tisch Dance and New Media Program.
